

2020 NTC Continuing Education

SCHOOL OF MEDICINE

OFFICE FOR CONTINUOUS
PROFESSIONAL LEARNING

Eligible participants of the conference can earn continuing medical education (CME) credits or continuing nursing education (CNE) hours. Participants who do not have a medical or nursing license, or whose medical or nursing license is based outside of the United States, can earn participation certificates.

Accreditation Statement:

This educational activity has been planned and implemented in accordance with the accreditation requirements and policies of the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) through the joint providership of the University of New Mexico School of Medicine and the National Tuberculosis Controllers Association (NTCA). The University of New Mexico School of Medicine is accredited by the ACCME to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

Virtual 2020 National Tuberculosis Conference (NTC)

The University of New Mexico School of Medicine designates this educational activity for a maximum of 14.0 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™ or 2.0 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™ per session. Physicians should only claim the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

Certificates will be available immediately upon completion of the evaluation for the session. Additionally, a four-month evaluation follow-up for CME credits will be distributed to assess the longitudinal impact of the educational activity.